PA NEW OBSERVES

One of the first local hunters to report bagging a deer was E. J. Baker of Shenango Stop, who brought down a nice 11-point, 200-pound buck in the vicinity of Kinzua, Pa.

High school senior class student Ed Lindsey of 1811 East Washington street bagged one of the first deer of the season—and also his first—when hunting up at Brookston yesterday. He got a 7-point buck. Also in the party were his father, Ray Lindsey, and William McConnell.

Gas stations had cars in line until late yesterday evening, waiting to get filled up. One station man described yesterday as "gas stations' paradise" as he happily counted slips for the sale of hundreds of gallons of gasoline.

An 8-point buck was brought down Monday by Bernard Hook, 1023 Beckford street, up in Venango county in the vicinity of Polk.

Since the United States Treasury department has asked piggy-bank penny savers to turn in their accumulations of pennies, one penny-saver we know has put a self-imposed ceiling of 50 pennies on her copper coin collecting. Instead of saving up hundreds, as formerly, now as soon as she has 50, she buys war saving stamps with them.

Steve Duffy, Jr., of Mercer doesn't need to take to the woods for his big game. Monday morning he reported seeing five does and two bucks in the woods near his home, just out of Mercer on the New Wilmington road. He thinks perhaps hunters scared them down from the big game country.

With gasoline rationing in effect today there was a noticeable increase in the number of persons riding the city buses. It is now more than ever necessary that all persons who can ride the buses at other times than during the morning and evening rush hours make the trip at that time.

Work of resurfacing North Jefferson street from the public square to Grant street, in progress yesterday, cut off a lot of parking space downtown last night, and many motorists had a hard time finding any place to park along the downtown streets.

There is something new under the sun. In a communication to The News today it was announced "Insulation of officers will take place at this meeting."

Lawrence county's army of deer hunters is mightily limited this year. With gas rationing and industrial conditions as they are, few persons can get away for the annual hunting expedition.

It looks like early Christmas shopping was well under way in the downtown section last night. With stores open on Monday evenings, a huge crowd of shoppers was in evidence last night.

Lawrence school house, near Liberty and Mahoning avenues, which was used for several years as headquarters for the sewing project under the WPA, has been boarded up. Windows, doors, etc., are now protected with a heavy board barricade. The project was discontinued some months ago.

With resurfacing being done on North Jefferson street, Pa New is unable to understand why a little top dressing couldn't be given to Washington street, through the main downtown blocks at least. It would certainly help the appearance of the street.

Jefferson-Moravia street traffic is now continuous, after having been detoured for some time. Rail crossings have been moved and paving extension is under way, but the thoroughfare has been opened to traffic.

Lone U. S. Submarine Sinks Eight Jap Ships Along Shores Of Japan

PEARL HARBOR, Dec. 1.—A single American submarine, carrying out daring raids along the shores of Nippon's home islands, was revealed today to have sunk eight Japanese merchant ships and damaged four others.

Safely back in port where their ship will be overhauled, the crew told of chasing one Jap convoy directly into an enemy harbor. They relaxed from the chores of raiding one Sunday to heave to close to shore where they were able to witness a horse race.

The raider, under command of Lieut. Com. Thomas D. Klakring of Annapolis is officially credited (Continued On Page Two)

Home Survey Is Under Way

Two Hundred Women Are Making Survey Of City For Housing Needs

With the weather man doing his best to make things miserable, the women of the United States Citizens Defense Corps, over 200 of them started out this morning to make a survey of the city, to ascertain how many homes in this city are available for conversion to apartments for war workers or are willing to rent rooms.

Armed with questionnaires and a determination to complete the survey by sundown, the women were prepared to call at every home and by nightfall it is hoped the housing committee will have a fairly comprehensive picture of what to expect in the way of available homes.

Monday afternoon the women gathered in the senior high school where final instructions were given. Norman E. Clark, chairman of the housing committee, was in charge and introduced Forrest Stout, assistant director of the Federal Housing Administration for western Pennsylvania, and others who spoke briefly.

Start Probe Of Boston Holocaust

Death Toll May Reach 500 Mark

Records Today Show That 487 Have Already Died Result Of Disaster

COWBOW MOVIE STAR SUCCUMBS

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Dec. 1 — The fire marshal of Massachusetts was under orders today to launch an immediate investigation into the disastrous Coconut Grove night club fire while the public was assured that any evidence of possible crime in connection with the holocaust will be given to the grand jury convening tomorrow.

The order to the state fire marshal, Stephen C. Garrity, was issued by Suffolk County District Attorney William J. Foley who made the grand jury promise as the death toll in the disaster reached 487 with the possibility that it might mount to the 500 mark.

An official list had 96 persons still suffering from injuries while the unidentified dead number 94, at the last count.

Meantime, Fire Commissioner William A. Reilly was conducting his own investigation of the disaster which claimed as one of its victims Charles (Buck) Jones, cowboy movie star who succumbed at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Boy Chief Witness

One of the witnesses at the fire commissioner's probe was Stanley Tomazewski, the 16-year old grief-stricken boy in the night club who told how the flame from a match he was using while replacing a loosened electric light bulb ignited a decorative palm tree.

He said that in a moment there was a "big puff of smoke and a flash of flame."

Others to appear were Fire Chief Samuel A. Pope and Lieut. Frank J. Linney of the Boston fire department. They offered conflicting opinions with the former saying that he was "satisfied" the blaze got its start in the palm tree but Linney declared he found several trees were not touched by the fire.

General Inspection

While the city and county authorities pushed their probes, Mayor Maurice J. Tobin said that all night clubs and dine and dance places would be inspected immediately to see if the establishments have sufficient fire precautions.

A trio in the state house of representatives, in a joint letter to Gov. Leverett Saltonstall, however, asked that all night clubs in the state which are below street level be closed immediately. The representatives are John Henry Carroll, Charles Kaplan and Charles Miller.

The cocktail lounge in the basement of the Coconut Grove was where the fire started, it was declared. Meantime, Robert S. Moulton, technical secretary of the national fire protection association, declared that the same fire safety requirements applicable to theaters and other places of public assembly should be applied to "these potential death traps."

inforcements by rail when the Russians occupied wide stretches of the two lines running into the city.)

A German military spokesman was quoted in a dispatch from Stockholm as declaring that the greatest tank battle of the war is being fought on the central front. "The situation is very grave," the spokesman told Swedish correspondents.

Russian troops drove forward to score new gains in the offensive in the Stalingrad region.

Continue Offensive

"Last night our troops in the area of Stalingrad and on the central front continued their offensives in the same directions as before," the communique said.

The Soviet high command said that the Germans on the southern outskirts of Stalingrad also were putting up stern opposition. Several Nazi counter-attacks were launched but each in turn was squashed by the Soviets.

A fortified locality was occupied northwest of Stalingrad in a continuation of Red army offensive operations.

The Germans threw in a force of tanks against the charging Russians on another sector northwest of the Volga city, it was disclosed, but the enemy armor was dispersed.

Heavy Fighting

"Southwest of Stalingrad our troops advanced and an enemy attempt to check them failed," the communique continued.

"On the central front our troops overcame enemy resistance, advanced and occupied several inhabited localities."

"Very heavy fighting occurred for every one of these places."

The toll of German dead mounted to record heights as the Soviet armies felled the Nazis by the hundreds in both offensives.

Desperate Nazi attempts to halt the Russian steamroller cost a new four-day toll of 20,000 German dead in the Stalingrad front alone and 7,500 Germans were officially reported slain yesterday.

(In the battling west of Moscow, one Stockholm dispatch said, the Russians broke through Nazi defenses into the streets of Rzhev, 140 miles northwest of the Soviet capital, where a furious battle is said to be in progress.)

night and knocked out three searchlights. An enemy gunboat was destroyed and a steamer heavily damaged. Two American planes were heavily damaged by anti-aircraft fire but both pilots were safe.

The following day B-25 medium bombers, with fighter escort, raided Stenning, 40 miles south of Hankow, and continued on to Yochow, 90 miles to the southwest. Troop barracks and military depots were the main targets at both places.

Ammunition stores were exploded at Yochow. Accuracy of the American bombers also registered direct hits on barracks, three anti-aircraft batteries, gasoline dumps and the railroad station.

Factories Are Demolished

Factory buildings were demolished at Stenning, and three hits were scored on a rail line leading to the city.

A second attack on the Canton area was carried out on Friday when a squadron of B-25 bombers and escorting P-40 fighters made what was described as the most destructive raid against the Japanese since the beginning of the war in China.

The bombers were under command of Lieut. Col. Herbert Morgan of Freedom, Pa., and the fighter squadrons was commanded by Col. Robert Scott of Macon, Ga.

An 8,000-ton freighter and a 7,000-ton freighter were sunk in the west river off Whapoa, and approximately 100 loaded lighters were sunk or damaged in the same area.

The American fighter planes shot down 23 enemy interceptor planes, and another six were listed as "probably destroyed."

An undetermined number of enemy aircraft were destroyed on the ground at the nearby White Cloud and Tinsu airdromes.

All American planes returned safely from this mission.

from Tunis is in Axis hands and presently leaves a route of escape for the Germans around the Tunisian capital. They could flee down the road toward Tripoli as well as skip out across the Sicilian Straits by sea or air.

Heavy Aerial Fighting

Aerial fighting by both sides is continuing at an intense pitch. Allied bombers and long-range lightning fighters are constantly carrying out attacks against Axis-held roads and railway communications leading south from Tunis along the eastern shore.

Reconnaissance reveals that southeast Tunisia, particularly the vicinity of the Gulf of Gabes, has been left to the Italians to defend. The Port of Gabes is only 100 miles from the frontier of Italian Libya.

British paratroops yesterday carried out a mass jump to capture another vital airfield in Tunisia. Seizure of the field gave the Allies a new forward base for supplies, considerably in advance of previously occupied airfields.

with sinking 700,000 tons of enemy shipping which gives it top rating in our under-sea fleet.

Sunk In Jap Harbor

One enemy ship was torpedoed in a Japanese harbor, and four others were sunk as they were trying to make port with badly needed cargoes of ore.

Asked how close to the Japanese mainland his ship operated, Commander Klakring said: "Well, one Sunday morning we came inshore and spent an hour watching the horse races."

In its first brush with the enemy the American submarine sank four of six vessels in a convoy trying to make a nearby port. The convoy, escorted by several warships, was sighted at early dawn.

Commander Klakring kept his ship on the surface until he had maneuvered into a good position. Then he submerged and went into the midst of the convoy.

Fire At Close Range

"We fired from the closest possible range, and got two of them," Commander Klakring said. "Then we surfaced so they could see us."

Two of the ships fled into a small harbor and we chased them right in. "This was a bad move for the Japs. One of the ships got in a position where we couldn't get at it, but we caught the other. Our torpedo struck amidships and it went down in 45 seconds. There was no time to launch lifeboats and there were no survivors."

"Then we highlighted out to look for the remaining two ships in the convoy."

Shore batteries in the harbor sent a number of shells screaming at the submarine, but the crew was so intent on stalking its prey that little attention was paid to the barrage. Several patrol boats rushed out of the harbor to rescue survivors.

"Then we caught up with one of the two remaining ships and fired two torpedoes, both of which scored hits," Commander Klakring continued.

Got Four Ships

"It took just a little more than an hour to get the four ships. It was nice to work and so close inshore that the residents could see us."

Another victim on the cruise was an 8,000-ton transport at the mouth of a harbor of a large Japanese city. One torpedo missed and exploded on the beach, but two hits sent the transport quickly to the bottom of the sea.

This engagement also had a Japanese audience ashore.

The most exciting adventure of the trip, said Commander Klakring, was an encounter with a seven-ship convoy which was stalked for several hours with the periscope showing. Enemy bombers were overhead.

The merchant ships were armed and fired at the submarine for half an hour while it maneuvered in the middle of the convoy.

"We sank two while they were firing at us," said Commander Klakring. "They went down ten minutes apart."

Another big cargo vessel was sunk ten miles off shore. The ship was alone and made an easy target. A single torpedo struck it in the middle and the ship broke in half.

of a force of 12. Two Allied planes were shot down but the pilots parachuted to safety.

Heavy Ground Fighting

The heaviest ground fighting, the communique said, was taking place on the left flank in the Gona area. "Our air forces actively supported our ground units," the communique said.

"An enemy flight of 12 Zeros engaged five forces of ours. Seven enemy planes and two of ours were shot down. Our pilots are safe."

"Over the Vitiaz Straits an Allied heavy bomber destroyed a Japanese fighter."

The communique revealed that Jap planes made an ineffectual night raid against the Allied New Guinea base of Port Moresby.

Over Port Darwin, Australia, a Japanese reconnaissance plane was shot down by anti-aircraft fire.

It was officially disclosed, meanwhile, that American Liberator B-24 bombers now have gone into action in the southwest Pacific battle area.

WINTER FARM SHIFT A GOOD START

SHIFTING 250 skilled farm workers from southern New Jersey to Florida for winter work on citrus, truck and sugar plantations is a small-scale operation. But in its potentialities it is a very big idea.

The plan is being worked out by the Farm Security Administration, and its regional director feels the measure is "symbolic of a future system of shock troops" that could "solve a substantial part of the nation's seasonal labor problem."

That it could accomplish a great deal in that direction is obvious. The real question, however, is how much and how soon? If a land army of this sort is recruited to sufficient size it will meet many serious situations arising seasonally in all growing areas and save many crops that would otherwise be ruined—as happened this year.

But this manpower proposal will have to be handled much better than others have been if it is to be really worthwhile. The Farm Security Administration is to be congratulated on devising it, and on the limited start made. It will earn even more enthusiastic approval, both from farmers and the general public, if it expands its land army quickly to adequate size and makes it available throughout the country.

'IN THE AIR, ON LAND AND SEA'

That portion of the Marine Hymn, which read, "We fight our country's battles on the land and on the sea," has been changed to "In the air, on land and sea."

The amendment is in order. At the outbreak of hostilities with Japan the garrison at Wake Island consisted of a few hundred men, including Marine fliers. In the first days of fighting those fighters sent a Jap cruiser and a destroyer to the bottom. The whole force held out for more than two weeks against overwhelming odds.

Throughout the war since, Marine aviators at Midway, at Guadalcanal, in many other battle areas, have continually distinguished themselves. The United States Marines have taken to the air with the same punch that they have had for a century and a half "on the land and on the sea."

IS THERE A MRS. CLAUS?

A shortage of men who can wear a red coat and long white whiskers with convincing dignity has persuaded a Chicago department store to invite Mrs. Santa Claus to substitute for her husband in welcoming children to the store and noting their preferences in Christmas gifts.

This may be the first time anybody has faced the question whether there really is a Mrs. Santa Claus. If not, there ought to be. Statistics prove that women are overwhelmingly the dominant sex in buying Christmas presents and all other kinds of retail merchandise. It is by their tolerance that the symbol of the season's giving is of the masculine gender.

Will it distress the youngsters to see the spirit of Christmas face to face and not through a thicket of benevolent white beard? That depends, perhaps, on what comes of it on Christmas morning.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

RATION POINT SYSTEM

Much will be heard of the "point system" soon in connection with meat rationing which is now booked to go off a voluntary basis early next year.

Dr. Harold Rowe, chief of the food rationing division of OPA, explains the system which is copied from the English. Every consumer receives a fixed number of points for a week and various types and cuts of meat will have point values, which the government can change at will. A pound of hamburger, being boneless, will require more points than a pound of spare ribs. As the pattern of supply and demand changes values can be raised or lowered by points.

If that sounds rather complicated, blame the smart boys in Washington. This is how Doctor Rowe says it will work, taking Britain's wartime experience with rationing as an example: "Traditionally, Britons eat bacon for breakfast, but early in the lend-lease program we shipped equal amounts of sausages and bacon to that country and the British ration points were identical for each. This led to a surplus of sausages in relation to bacon. So the point values were changed, making it possible to get more sausages than bacon for a given number of points. The result was that the Britons began eating sausage for breakfast to such an extent that a further adjustment in point values became necessary."

That is the way in which the thing grows, and grows, and grows.

LEGISLATION, NEW STYLE

Legislation proposed by the administration giving the President power to suspend "in whole or in part all or any of the laws relating to immigration, tariff, customs or espionage," has provided the first post-election vehicle for a reassertion of congressional prerogatives. The Ways and Means Committee has rewritten the bill so that its author, whoever he is, will not recognize it.

The redesigned bill carries a clause that it is to lapse automatically the day after the war ends. As other bills enacted by congress carry this proviso, this may be the subject of a future battle in congress. Congress obviously intends that these powers shall lapse the day after fighting ends. If protracted peace negotiations follow, the administration could hold that these powers were in effect for years after the war ends.

It was admitted by the Democratic leaders in the house that this latest request for more power for the President, as originally worded, would have no show, although the Democrats have a majority of 100. So the request was modified by the house committee and an effort will be made to get it through the house before the new congress takes hold a month hence. After that, Democrats admit, the bill would have no chance at all.

On the original proposition Attorney General Biddle assured the committee that in asking for the legislation the President had no intention of exercising the power to strike down tariff barriers and permit uncontrolled immigration into this country, or for any purpose not connected directly with the war effort. That would seem to obviate all necessity for the legislation.

If the bill, in its modified form, passes congress, it will be a lame duck measure passed contrary to the wishes of the electorate expressed at the polls in November. If that is not so, why not let the new congress pass on it?

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

GOOD GRANDPARENTS THE RULE

I believe there are more good grandparents than bad ones. I must be a little biased, being a grandpa myself.

Practically all the grandparents want to be good ones and suppose they are. Whatever harm they do comes through their human frailties, often through their very eagerness to be most useful. It is hard for grandparents to feel they are not needed as much as they think they should be by their children and grandchildren.

It is when these grandparents still have their apron strings tied to the married son or daughter that the grandchildren are most likely to be harmed.

Young married women should check up on these matters at once. They should ask themselves: "Must we go at regular or frequent intervals—every week or so—to his home or mine? Will his parents or mine feel hurt if we don't make these regular visits?" As sure as you live, if until a baby arrives such frequent and regular visits are expected, they will be the more expected afterwards.

Wise young couples will avoid too frequent regular visits to the parents or in-laws.

Now and then we hear of the young man or woman who on the honeymoon must call his or her parents by long distance or write them daily.

Many a letter do I receive telling me of the grandparents who almost demand that the grandchildren come to stay with them long and often, spoiling these youngsters while there and being offended if the parents try to reduce the visits. Some write they can't afford to offend the grandparents, lest they forget these grandchildren in their will. Many, of course, write of problems with grandparents living under the same roof.

Good Grandparents
Very few, however, write of the good things they could truly write about grandparents. Very few write of the sacrifices grandmothers choose to make for their married sons and daughters and grandchildren, or of the many sacrifices these parents will thrust upon the grandparents; of the scores of times Grandma keeps the children while the parents go out for good times.

Nor do many write of grandparents who give stability to the home and inspire the grandchildren to want to amount to something, often furnishing funds for their higher education.

Saving Parent Problems
Q. My daughter 18 months of age eats dirt. She will go out and get a clod of dirt and eat it all if not taken from her.

A. I advise that a doctor who specializes in diets be consulted. She may lack some elements of food. Also, the attention she gets when she does eat dirt may have proved so satisfying to her as to encourage this act in her. Have some one always with her to keep her from eating dirt when she is where she can get it. It is not a case of punishment.

The World and the Mud Puddles

TAKE THE YOUNG MEN
The confusion in high places regarding the operation of selective service adds to public doubt that there is much war-time horse sense in Washington. The principle of the draft, as the fairest and surest way to build a conquering fighting force, has never been in question. But it is being handled currently in a manner to cause the greatest possible inconvenience, uncertainty and personal sacrifice for millions of men and families.

One day, General Marshall says that a drafted private of thirty-eight is too old, and he'd like to send home all men over forty. Another day, the President says some men over forty are physically qualified for combat duty while others would serve better in war industry. Last week General Hershey said he favored draft deferment for men over thirty-five.

Such indecision and contradiction must place a heavy strain upon the morale of the man no longer young who expects to sacrifice his means of livelihood if he goes into service. Shall he dispose of his business or shop now (the two-week furlough this time?) Shall he wait, thinking he may not be called? If he is called, shall he have made in vain the sacrifice of losing all he has built in civilian life, only to be sent home, a few months hence, because the Army has once more changed its mind about him?

Such men should be entitled to an answer to a simple question: Does the Army want older men in military service, or doesn't the Army want them?

After almost a year of war—and particularly after a period of years in which the public was told repeatedly that every last detail for "M-day" was blueprinted and ready in case of war—draft policies should be clear and fixed. The "draft jitters" are an inexcusable imposition on millions of earnest, willing Americans.

Always remember this—young men are better fighters than old men.

"What are you going to be when you grow up?" a visitor in a home asked a small son.

"Well," he said, after a moment's thought, "After I've been president for a while to please mother, a lawyer a while to please dad, I think I'll be a flier."

WHO SUGGESTS RETIRE?

"When I have overnight guests, is it my place as hostess, to suggest going to bed or should I wait until they make the suggestion that we retire?"—M. T. H.

Answer: It is the privilege of your guests to show the first inclination that they would like to retire. If they seem to be enjoying themselves and show no sign of weariness, do not bring up the subject of going to bed.

But if your family and guests are sitting about, chatting, you should, at a reasonable hour, ask your guests if they are tired and explain to them that they may retire at any time they wish.

And, if your guests have journeyed far, do not plan any elaborate entertainment for the first evening of their visit; unless, of course, they are invited for that purpose. People, tired from their travels, do not care to stay up late and exert themselves to be agreeable and vivacious.

Answer: The bridegroom, who usually supplies bouquets for all of the bride's attendants.

Question: When no bread and butter plate is used—just tiny butter plates, where should the butter knife be placed after it is used—on the tablecloth, near the other silver, or on the dinner place?—Mary L.

Answer: Never put a used piece of silver on the tablecloth. Place the butter knife so that the used end rests on the individual butter plate. Fortunately, these tiny plates are fast disappearing and the larger bread and butter plates are taking their place.

AIMED TOO LOW

Bob, a college freshman, came bursting into his room late one night, exclaiming excitedly to his room-mate:

"What did she say," inquired his senior room-sharer.

"She said, 'Heaven's above, and I'm sure she's right.'"

"Did you yell for help when you were held up?"

"Yes, but the bandits said if I didn't keep quiet they would call the police."

New Peace Drive By Hitler Is Expected
Are Virtually Fighting Lone Handed Now
United Nations Are Warned To Lick Nazis

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Hans Habe, predicting in a prominent December magazine, that Herr Hitler will launch a "blitz" campaign for a negotiated compromise peace, is doing only his own personal guessing, of course.

It isn't likely that Prophet Habe can read the Fuehrer's mind from away over on this side of the Atlantic. It also is evident that Adolf didn't reveal his plan to him confidentially, hoping for a favorable notice, because this notice distinctly is otherwise. The whole article is a warning to the United Nations that the only safe way to negotiate with the Nazis is to lick 'em flat.

Nevertheless, it's obvious that Brother Habe (I hesitate to refer to him as "Herr" Habe just now) has been a close student of the situation, and it's probable that a commentator whose name begins with "Hans" is exceptionally qualified to draw conclusions relative to Teutonic scheming.

Paraphrasing, here we have it again—

ALL Germans shouldn't be condemned on account of Herr Hitler. Some of 'em are all right.

And, if Comrade Habe is correct, it appears that this latter kind are the folk who, in his very own doorway, are helping to scare Adolf into making the best terms he can get without going on to the finish he originally had scheduled.

Heat May Be On

Hans wasn't needed to inform the rest of the civilized world of anti-Hitler sentiment throughout the areas previously conquered by Berlin's forces. Those regions' sizings have been no news any of the time, but they've needed some internal heat to stimulate 'em.

Hans thinks it's being generated, and there are hints that it really is starting to manifest itself.

Then Germany's Italian support began to peter out.

It never had amounted to much. Finally it frazzled to a point where (Continued On Page Five)

Mercer Woman Is Shooting Victim

Accident Occurs As Couple Clean Out Bureau Drawers; Discharge Of Gun Unexplained

MERCER, Dec. 1.—An accidental shooting which occurred at 4 p. m. yesterday sent Mrs. Peggy Harris, E. Market street, to Mercer Cottage hospital in a critical condition with an abdominal wound. H. C. Harris, her husband, is unable to remember the exact details because he is still suffering from severe shock. It is believed that the two were straightening out the contents of a dresser drawer which contained a 38 calibre police revolver. The gun which Mr. Harris was holding went off accidentally and the bullet struck his wife's abdomen. She was rushed to the hospital ten minutes later and was on the operating table for several hours.

Before going on the operating table Mrs. Harris summoned District Attorney Edwin C. Moon and related to him what had occurred. Both Mrs. Harris and her husband told the district attorney that they could not explain what caused the discharge of the gun.

Mrs. Harris is assistant postmaster at the local post office. Her husband, a former state policeman, is now employed in the personnel division at the Geneva Arsenal.

Seaman Huff Tells Of African Action

Grove City Boy Home On Furlough After Convoy Duty To Moroccan Coast

GROVE CITY, Dec. 1.—Fred Huff, Jr., a soundman, third class, in the U. S. navy, whose brother, Seaman Jack Huff, was the first local boy to lose his life in action, spent a 72-hour furlough with his parents after his destroyer returned from duty with the big U. S. convoy to North Africa. His ship was the first to land at Safi, French Morocco, a small port which was briefly defended by French Legionnaires before it was taken.

Huff showed fragments of a German Messerschmitt plane which was shot down by his ship and crashed on the Moroccan coast 300 yards away. The fragments fell from the plane as it disintegrated overhead. The local boy celebrated his 21st birthday on Friday, Nov. 13, the day his ship started the return trip.

Huff said the two destroyers accompanying the small detachment landing at Safi had a perfect score, shooting down one enemy plane while a U. S. army plane followed an Italian bomber that attempted to stay out of range of the destroyers. The port was captured with little difficulty, he said.

The Great Game Of Politics

Mr. Baruch in the last war by President Wilson, and Mr. Baruch was able to get results without taking things out of the army's hands. Apparently, Mr. Nelson thinks he can get better results if he puts all in the hands of his able aide, Mr. Wilson. And, having been asked to do the job, one can easily understand Mr. Wilson's feeling that he should exercise complete control. But, compromise or no compromise, what this means is a proof that better results will ensue. For one thing, a certain amount of retarding readjustment will follow. For another, sore spots and hard feelings are inevitable. For a third, it certainly will leave the army unconvinced. From its standpoint there is much to justify the view that the army, linking up with American industry, has done a really great job. Most people will agree to this; agree also that today things are operating smoothly under army-industry cooperation. If the job is not being perfectly done, still there is nothing in the record of the WPB to create confidence that it could do better.

ON THE contrary, army spokesmen say—and with some truth—that the WPB record has been one of vacillation, weakness and instability. There are stronger men in it now than before, but it still checks short in various directions and easily might make a mess if it undertakes to uproot the army production machine. To the charge that it is not "scheduling" competently, the army replies that in the African expedition it scheduled pretty successfully some 700,000 separate items and asks if there is anything in the WPB record to show it could have done as well. Army spokesmen further say that so far as production is concerned, it would have shown even better results if the WPB had had a competent priority system and thus prevented shortages of raw materials such as steel, copper and rubber. As for the argument of Mr. Wilson's qualifications and industrial experience, the army retorts with "Well, we have Knudsen." Altogether, the army makes out a pretty good case for continuation of the existing setup and Mr. Nelson would be in a stronger position if there had been more stability and less shifting within his agency.

TAKING ALL these things into consideration, it is a little hard to see the reasons for a change. No charge is made that the army has bogged down, and there seems sense in the contention that the best thing would be if Mr. Nelson could be satisfied with publicly establishing his right to step in and take over—with the army acknowledging him as boss—but not really to do so unless or until the army fails to measure up. There is a disposition to feel that the hard fight Mr. Nelson has made on this issue is due to the way in which the strong men whom he recently has brought in have been "needing" him. On one phase of the argument the army is at a disadvantage. Mr. Nelson and Mr. Wilson can permit to go out strong hints that if they do not have their way they will resign. This may be bluff or it may not be, but the army can't match it. Nobody can resign from the army—or even talk about it. No matter how much it loses in a compromise, the army has to carry on and be cheerful about it.

As of the present juncture, the Nazis are reported to be fortifying their border anti-Fascistically.

Fortifying AGAINST 'em is going some.

The Japs are pro-Jap exclusively. Now it starts to transpire that the German military class is anti-Hitler.

Adolf himself doesn't belong to it. It's an aristocratic bunch and he's a plebeian.

If his internal organization is threatened with going floozy, where does he get off?

The Fuehrer is supposed to want Spain to take charge of his negotiated peace move. Awhile back Spanish Caudillo Franco unquestionably would have been willing to act as his spokesman, but not if his back to the wall, as Caudillo Franco seemingly thinks it is.

Pope Pius, too, is suggested as a possible negotiator.

It's presumable that he wants peace. On Adolf's terms, though?

What Kind of Peace?

Just what sort of a bargain the Fuehrer has in his bean is problematic.

He seemingly is bent on keeping Germany going as an independent institution—with himself as Fuehrer.

His Fuehrership is the essential consideration.

The nut is—

This way is being fought over—

1. Herr Hitler, not Germany.

2. Benito Mussolini, who no longer signifies.

3. The Japs, who are still raising hades.

It isn't the Germans, who can be disposed of. It isn't the Italians, who are respectable enough, anyway. Basically it's the Japs who have to be exterminated—not the average Japs, but their military aggregation.

To consolidate 'em—

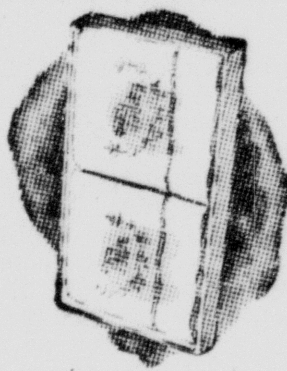

Adolf pretty completely represents all Germany at present.

Benito did, but doesn't now, represent much of Italy.

Mikado Hirohito, who's advertised as Japan's spokesman, but who, really, hasn't much more to say as to its policies than I have; his war class bosses the job.

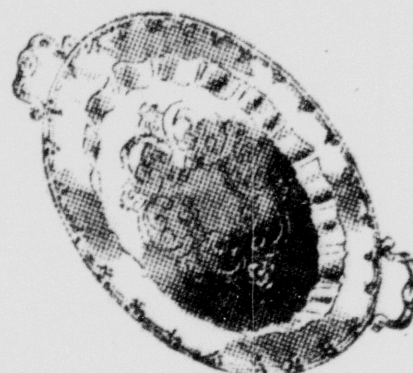

Moral courage is the kind that enables you to give war stamps for Christmas no matter what people give you.

Chest Revamping Talked By Board

Operating Responsibility Would Be Shifted Under
New Plan

EFFICIENCY AIM, MATHENY DECLARES

A streamlining looms for the future operating set-up of the New Castle Community Chest board of directors.

At its December meeting last night in the East Moody avenue home of Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, the directors, representing all the Chest agencies and all divisions of community life, deliberated over ways and means for putting more efficiency into the Chest operation.

If plans work out, the Chest, after next January, will be administered by an executive committee of seven or nine members which will report to the general board membership. The new Chest president and vice president would be members.

President Marshall G. Matheny, who presided last night, named a nominating committee to submit a slate of 1943 officers at the January board session. On the committee will be Dr. G. S. Bennett, chairman; Roger W. Rowland, and Robert L. Meermans.

For almost two and a half hours last night the board, one of the most representative community groups ever to assemble here, discussed weaknesses in the present Chest board operation and the methods by which they might be remedied. Various community endeavors, including the current United War Fund campaign, were mentioned.

After the meeting the board viewed the attractive Bundles for America storage vault in the Johnson home. What once was a swimming pool now holds clothing contributed to the Bundles cause here.

City police and firemen were called to Chartes and Moravia streets at 10:37 o'clock this morning, when a truck owned by Angelo Muzzocco, of 427 Shady Side, and driven by Mike Muzzocco, of 423 Shady Side, broke loose while parked on Moravia street, and crashed into a pole owned by the Pennsylvania Power Co., which carried high tension wires.

The truck loaded with sand, and did a complete job of wrecking the pole and itself. The young driver had gotten off the truck to buy a package of cigarettes, it is stated, when the parked truck broke loose.

GRANT BUILDING PERMIT

City Engineer John Street today granted a permit to Emilio Iozzi to build a private garage at 1504 Huron avenue.

"For these are the lasting, truthful things..."

This is an American soldier.

He goes to war not with any fanatical theories of race superiority, of any special "place in the sun," nor any desire to rule the world by fire and by sword. He fights for something greater. For decency—for his loved ones—for his Country, not as some warlike symbol, but as the one great refuge in this world where the humble, the meek, and the righteous may live and work in peace.

This is why he must win. For these are lasting, truthful things. They are not temporary drugs for the mind, but steadfast things of the heart and the soul. And when the flame of fanaticism finally flickers and goes out, the fires of American decency and honor will still burn.

It is this same sense of decency and honor that has bound us all together. We know we cannot all fight. But there is something we can do—and are doing—to help. We can help provide the guns, the planes, the tanks, and the ships to put might behind the right.

By the tens of millions, Americans are saving for Victory in the War Bond Payroll Savings Plan. Every payday we employees, workers and bosses are putting aside 10% of our pay—a dime from every dollar—and every time these savings amount to $18.75, we get a War Bond. And—because this is the free American way—our money is working double. First it goes in a mighty flow for the instruments of Victory, then—ten years later—it comes back to us, four dollars for every three we've put into War Bonds—$25 for every $18.75.

Now look at the picture again. Then imagine that this soldier were your brother, your son, or your sweetheart.

Would ten percent of your pay, in War Bond savings, be too much to help him win—and live?

War Stamps Are Reported Stolen

Ray Walker, youth of 910 Temple avenue is lucky, also unlucky.

Here's the story.

Saturday night at the Cathedral he was awarded $5.00 worth of war stamps at the Police Pension fund show.

He had them in an envelope as he passed from the Cathedral.

One of a group of youths seized the stamps and fled.

There is a stiff penalty for stealing war stamps. Perhaps the thief will find a way to return them.

At any rate, police are hunting for the culprit.

The theft was reported to police yesterday.

IN DEER COUNTRY
Neal Williams, city engineering department, today is in the deer country. Having recovered recently from a severe illness, Williams does not expect to hunt but went to the big woods to watch other hunters drag bucks in.

War measure: Any bill designed by the War Department and messed up by politics.

District Scout Leaders Banquet

Wives Attend Annual Business Session In First U. P. Church

MELLOR ELECTED 1942-43 CHAIRMAN

The annual meeting of the New Castle district, Boy Scouts of America, was held in the First U. P. church Monday evening with a large number of scouters and their wives present. Toastmaster of the evening was DeLace Cole.

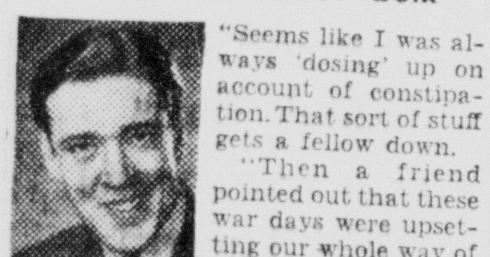

The opening ceremony was conducted by Scout Troop 3 by the posting of colors, with Scout James Berkstresser as bugler, followed by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. After the invocation by Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the church, a delicious dinner was served by the Ladies Aid of the church. Entertainment consisted of group singing led by "Red" Williams with E. E. Branstetter at the piano. Special numbers, which were very well rendered and received, were rendered by a male chorus under the direction of David Rees.

The business meeting of the evening consisted of the following:

Reports of committees: Finance: Charles Johnson; camping and activities: Andrew M. Dadds; organization and extension: Roger Jewett; leadership training: Milton Pattison; health and safety: Paul B. Wilson; advancement: Rev. A. M. Stump; cubbing: Leland O. Rowe. The nominating committee made their report after which the following scouters were named to lead the

Here's How I Licked Wartime Constipation!

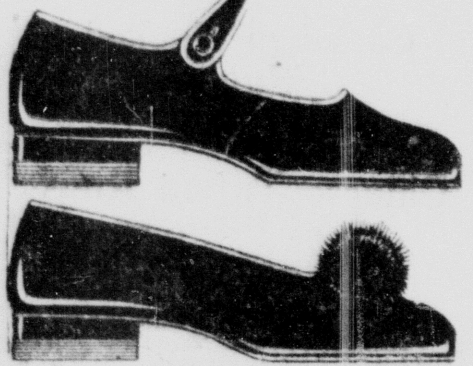

It was easy after I was told it's often due to lack of "bulk"

"Seems like I was always 'dosing' up on account of constipation. That sort of stuff gets a fellow down. "Then a friend pointed out that these war days were upsetting our whole way of living. Particularly in how we eat. Said I ought to take care my meals were properly balanced—and make sure I got plenty of 'bulk.' Because lack of 'bulk' is one of the common causes of wartime constipation. Those medicinal laxatives gave me only temporary relief, they didn't get at the cause. "But, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN really fixed me up. It corrects this kind of constipation by supplying 'bulk.' And it tastes swell, too. Just eat it regularly and drink plenty of water. ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek."

Chairman, Alfred H. Mellor; first vice chairman, Dr. J. Wesley Post; second vice chairman, Jack Gerson; secretary, Elmer D. Nesbitt.

It is the hope of the chairman of the district that in the coming year greater advancement will be made in scouting in New Castle and due to the fact that a large number of scoutmasters and scout leaders are now in the service of their country he is appealing to all those who have formerly been in scouting, and for some time past have been inactive, to reregister and give all the help they can in the coming year. E. D. Hawk, district commissioner, was commended by all present for the fine work he is doing with the Emergency Service Corps and also for training the messenger service for the Civilian Defense Corps.

Speaker of the evening was Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of Second U. P. church, in which he recited some of the advantages scouting has been to those now in the service, and spoke concerning home life.

Mr. Cole paid a tribute to scouting, after which Rev. Stump read the second verse of the Star Spangled Banner and the meeting was brought to a close by Mr. Hawk by leading in the scoutmaster's benediction.

The success of the meeting was due to the following dinner committee: A. S. Clever, chairman; J. Arthur Turek and Dan Carroll. Scout Executive J. J. Finnessy was in attendance and expressed his personal thanks for the work of scouters, scouts and others during the past year.

area where General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel may choose to fight a delaying action between the coast and the salt marshes 20 miles to the south.

Possibility of an Axis stand at Aghella was seen in Prime Minister Winston Churchill's suggestion Sunday that there may yet be another battle at the entrance to Tripolitania.

The middle east communique said there was some slight air activity over western Cyrenaica, the eastern province of Libya.

Two German Messerschmitt 109 fighters were shot down by allied planes and a Junkers 88 transport was destroyed in the Benghazi area. Fighter planes strafed Axis positions along the road leading to and from El Aghella, the communique said.

Devastating attacks were made by fighter-bomber squadrons against Axis airfields on the island of Sicily and a new assault against German-occupied Bizerte in Tunisia was disclosed.

An Axis merchant vessel was smashed by a direct hit near the Mediterranean island of Pantellaria south of Sicily. A large explosion rent the ship.

"Our fighter-bombers considerably damaged the Comiso and Gela airfields on Sicily," the communique said.

The Bizerte attack was concentrated on docks at the naval base. Two allied planes were reported missing in these operations.

Gas Rationing Now In Effect

Public Transportation Systems Feel Effect Of Rationing First

(International News Service)

War-time gasoline rationing descended over mid-continent and western America today, bringing with it the prospect of sweeping social and economic changes in areas hitherto free from motor fuel restrictions.

Limiting of gasoline sales from the Alleghenies to the Pacific Coast followed by nearly seven months the imposition of gas rationing on the Eastern seaboard last May 15.

The conservation program is estimated to have affected owners of some 20,000,000 passenger automobiles and 7,000,000 trucks and buses in the drive to save war-vital rubber.

Throughout the vast mid-west, west and southwestern stretches where gasoline rationing entered its first day, public transportation systems were jammed with new riders who left their automobiles at home.

Extra cars were attached to suburban and elevated trains, even last trolley was placed in service and all available buses were operating to keep up with the demand. Staggered working hours went into effect in Chicago to help the situation there.

City Receives More Fire Hose

Gibson Reports 3,600 Feet Sent Here For Auxiliary Firemen's Use

Federal Property Custodian James Gibson today announced the city had received from the State Council of Civilian Defense, 3,600 feet of 2½ inch fire hose for auxiliary firemen. Additional hose is to be received.

Gibson also announced he is anticipating the early arrival of two front end pumps and three skid pumps.

The equipment will be given to auxiliary firemen throughout the city. Up to this time the auxiliary firemen have had nothing to aid regular and volunteer firemen in case of fire.

Arrival of the hose and the expected arrival of the pumps of 500 gallons per minute capacity, will result in the auxiliary firemen becoming an established body to fight fires here should necessity arise.

NAZIS FORCED TO GIVE GROUND IN TUNISIA BATTLE

again bombed the docks at Bizerte and destroyed four German planes at a cost of only one of their own craft. The power of the Allied air arm is increasing steadily, radio Algiers said.

Axis airmen, according to radio Morocco, bombed the Allied landing point of Bone in eastern Algeria at nightfall and damaged several buildings.

French Troops Advance

Morocco also reported that French troops continued to advance in the Gabes-Stax sector on the eastern coast of Tunisia. The French high command was quoted as saying:

"We are attempting to break Axis communications between Tripolitania and Tunisia."

American armored columns, supporting British Lieut. Gen. Kenneth A. N. Anderson's First Army, plodded forward cautiously through Axis minefields despite continuous aerial forays by Nazi air forces.

Dispatches from Allied headquarters, bearing out earlier pronouncements of American commanders that the ousting of the Axis from Tunisia would be no pushover, said that the enemy defenses were making Allied progress a tedious and slow job.

Arrayed against the advancing American, British and French forces are strong German artillery batteries and numerous minefields. Besides 88 millimeter guns the Allies are confronted by both medium and light tanks and Stuka dive-bombers. Focke-Wulf and Messerschmitt fighters are numerous.

International News Service Staff Correspondent Lowell Bennett, with an American tank force outside Tunis, reported that the sky overhead is filled with screaming, diving Stukas and Nazi fighters.

Despite the enemy opposition, which so far has served only to retard the advance, the Allies are punching their way steadily forward along the remaining few miles to Tunis.

Native huts lie pulverized, houses and churches shell-torn in the wake of the advance, mute testimony along with the crater-filled fields of the furious resistance put up by the Axis to stem the tide destined to drive them from North Africa.

German trucks, squad cars and motorcycles, together with some Allied trucks, litter roadways along which the First Army has moved.

NOW CAR OWNERS CAN BUY THE NEW Firestone WAR TIRE

YES—It's true! If your present tires cannot be recapped, you are eligible to apply for a certificate to buy the new Firestone War Tire no matter whether you hold an "A," "B" or "C" gasoline ration book.

The new Firestone War Tire is now on sale at all Firestone Dealers and Firestone Stores. Its construction has been tested and proved by more than two years of service. Naturally, you'd expect Firestone to build the best War Tire that can be built, because Firestone has always been a pioneer in developing new processes and creating new products made from rubber. And with its unequalled background of experience in building tires that successfully withstand the most gruelling tests of durability and safety, it is not surprising that Firestone is building a War Tire with such exclusive features as:

Speedway. The body of the new Firestone War Tire is built to outwear several treads and can be recapped for thousands of miles of extra service.

Firestone Non-Skid Tread—famous for performance and protection against skidding.

Vitamic Rubber—made by adding a new wear-resisting rubber vitamin, called "Vitalin."

If your present tires can be recapped—be sure to have them recapped by the Firestone Factory Controlled Method. Firestone has the largest system of recapping shops in America, strategically located to give you better service. This nation-wide system is strictly supervised and uniform in workmanship. For longer mileage, bring your tires to us for recapping.

COME IN AND SEE IT! The new Firestone War Tire is now ready for the car owners of America. Come in and see it. We will be glad to help you make out an application for a tire rationing certificate.

PROTECT YOUR TIRE MILEAGE with Firestone LIFE PROTECTORS

For longer mileage and greater safety, equip every tire with a Firestone Life Protector. This amazing double-chambered tube keeps your tire inflated in event of a puncture or blowout, so that you can stop safely without cutting or slashing the precious tire. Any certificate for a new tube entitles you to buy a Life Protector.

Caterpillar Club's Membership Grows Fast In New Guinea

By FRANK ROBERTSON

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Dec. 1.—More than 100 American pilots, navigators, bombardiers and gunners have gained admittance to the exclusive Caterpillar club during the New Guinea campaign by parachuting to safety from their doomed planes.

Only two civilians in this area have joined the club—Vern Haugland, Associated Press correspondent, and an unidentified aircraft factory representative.

First Lieut. Frank Angier of Baltimore, Md., made certain of his membership by jumping twice on two successive flights. In his second jump, he came to earth simultaneously with Second Lieut. W. R. Marlett of Caldwell, N. J., and First Lieut. James Foster of Philadelphia, Pa.

Mass Jump at Moresby

Another mass jump was staged during a Japanese raid on the allied base at Port Moresby when First Lieut. Carl Rauch of Cadillac, Mich.; Don Green of Anacostia, Mont.; and Henry Bartlett of Boston, Mass., had their fighters shot from under them and were forced to take to their chutes.

Capt. Tom Lynch of Catasqua, Pa., flew his bullet-riddled ship until it could fly no further. He threw open the hood on his cockpit and jumped, but broke his arm as he cleared the ship.

First Lieut. Ralph Carey of Valley Stream, L. I., leaped from his P-39 and recovered consciousness lying under a tree in the jungle.

with both legs broken. He has been in the hospital for six months but doctors say he will walk and fly again.

Grabbed By Crocodile
A crocodile almost took the life of First Lieut. Lantrey Plunkett of Lynchburg, Va., after he jumped from his fighter plane. Twice a crocodile grabbed him by the shoulder as he was making his way down stream toward Port Moresby, but each time he escaped.

Second Lieut. Walter Beans of Norfolk, Va., was forced to jump from his battered plane at 200 feet. He was falling like a plummet when his ship exploded beneath him, the blast blowing him high enough for his chute to open.

First Lieut. Jim Miller of Salinas, Cal., landed on a lonely beach only to find a P-40 had been repaired and needed only a pilot to fly it back to its base. Miller made the hazardous takeoff sitting in the lap of a native he pressed into service so he could see over the ship's cowl.

Marines' December Quota Almost In On Very First Day

Corps Has 14 Of 18 To Be Enlisted This Month; Army, Navy Rushed

The Marine Corps recruiting office here today—on the first day of the month—was only four short of its December quota of 18 men.

Platoon Sgt. John L. Dean said 14 have already been examined in Pittsburgh and are awaiting orders to leave.

No let-up in crowds of 18 and 19-year-olds flocking into the army and navy recruiting sub-stations in the Post Office building was noticeable today, although the weather was bad.

The navy's recruiting progressed under a new slogan: "Remember last December!"

Gasoline Rationing And Tire Checking Program In Effect

War-Time Plan Is Begun Today

Periodic Tire Inspections Are Required Under Gas Rationing Program

NEW RATIONING IS NATION-WIDE

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 1.—State-wide gasoline rationing and compulsory registration of automobile tires as war-time measures were launched today by the Office of Price Administration.

Approximately 2,043,345 motor vehicles will be affected by the tire registration program while more than 72,888 automobiles and motorcycles in 25 western Pennsylvania counties will be covered by the extension of gasoline rationing. Gas rationing became effective for more than 1,260,457 motor vehicles in 42 eastern Pennsylvania counties on May 12, but state-wide rationing was postponed because transportation facilities were sufficient to keep motorists supplied with gasoline in the 25 counties. The O. P. A. asserted that motorists who do not register their tires will be unable to apply for retroactive or recapped tires.

Must Check Tires
Tire registration for motorists having "A" cards extends from Dec. 1 to Jan. 31. Thereafter, tires must be checked every four months, with inspections at least 60 days apart. Holders of "B," "C" and "D" cards must also have their tires inspected during the next 60 days but must have their tires checked every two months thereafter with inspections at least 30 days apart. Motorists are not required to visit the same certified station for all inspections. The O. P. A. has approved more than 6,000 stations for all inspections.

The O. P. A. assured motorists that the certified stations are manned by experienced tire men familiar with serving and possessing necessary repair equipment. Lists of inspectors and stations are on file with local rationing boards.

Fees Permitted
Inspection fees, fixed by the O. P. A., permit a charge of 25 cents per vehicle if tires are not removed from the vehicle. If tires are dismounted for purposes of "closer inspection," the following fees in addition to the original 25-cent charge may be assessed: 50 cents for each passenger car tire, 75 cents for small truck tires, $1 each for large truck tires, 50 cents for each dual tire removed.

The O. P. A. said car owners will receive tire inspection records after serial numbers of their tires have been checked. Rationing officials hinted that boards may deny retroactive and recapped tires to motorists who fail to keep their tires in proper condition.

Trucks, buses and taxicabs must display "war necessity certificates" starting today. All commercial vehicles were to have been inspected by Nov. 15 but tardiness in mailing and receiving applications forced the O. P. A. to grant a 15-day extension. The owners of commercial vehicles must now have their tires checked every 5,000 miles or every 60 days.

Requirements Lower For Civilian Pilot

Age And Physical Requirements Less Strict Than For Military Combat Pilots

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 1.—Young men between 18 and 37 who have been unable to meet physical requirements for combat pilots will be given an opportunity to qualify for Civilian Pilot training by taking mental examinations here at Westminster college Saturday, Dec. 5, according to Dean Maxwell R. Kelso, C. P. T. coordinator. The test will be given in the Science Hall on the campus, beginning at 1 p. m.

Physical examinations will be given at a later date. Requirements are considerably lower than those required of combat pilots. Under the CPT program to train flying specialists, including instructors, glider pilots, commercial pilots, and service pilots, units of 10 Army and 10 Navy fliers receive basic training every eight weeks. Civilian Pilot trainees live at Hillside, men's dormitory, while on the campus; study ground courses under regular college instructors; and take flying lessons at the New Castle airport from the Wilson Aviation school. Subsistence and tuition costs are paid by the federal government.

Will Have Roles In Senior Play

Robert George And Virginia Harlan In Cast Of January Class Play

Important roles in the class play of the January graduates at the senior high school are played by Robert L. George and Virginia Harlan. Robert is cast as Budie Walters, an intrepid knight of the air who makes light of injuries sustained in landing a burning plane and clamors for an early assignment instead of a furlough. His ardent admirer is the stewardess, Midge Saunders, played by Virginia Harlan. Midge Saunders gives lift to the plot by a certain amount of feigning conniving in an attempt to promote her own interests, which she interprets to include those of Budie.

Both young people are well known and popular members of the senior class. Virginia has been interested in high school dramatics for some time, playing last year in "Lease on Liberty," the successful comedy of Magnolia, the colored maid. She has been punctuating her senior year weeks with enthusiastic rifle practice. "Teedie" is a good student, but she believes in student activities. "Bob" Lockhart also stands for versatility and variety in his high school program. He has been active in the German club and the Senior Hi-Y and works on the No-Ca-Hi staff when he is not using his leisure time for dramatics.

Virginia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Harlan of Edgewood avenue. Robert is the son of Mrs. Margaret L. George of Leasure avenue.

Farmers Need Fear No Post-War Slump

Wickard Urges More Food Production; Exports To Europe Will Not Slacken

DENVER, Dec. 1.—Secretary of agriculture Claude R. Wickard called upon American farmers on Monday to break food production records in 1943 "without fear of post-war collapse of farm products."

"In this war," Wickard said, "food is as necessary as bullets."

The outcome of the 1943 food drive, he stated, "may determine how soon we will win the war."

Speaking at the first of four regional meetings of agriculture department field personnel, Wickard said farmers need not fear a drop in farm production and prices after the war similes to the farm depression which followed World War I.

"For several years after the war ends—perhaps for a good many years—there should be no slackening of the emergency overseas demands for American farm products," the secretary predicted.

"Instead the demands probably will increase. We will be sending food and fiber to people now under the heel of the Axis as well as to our present allies. If we don't, there will be chaos."

Already, Wickard said, lend-lease shipments of food have totalled 6,250,000,000 pounds. In September alone more than a half billion pounds, mainly concentrated foods, were shipped abroad.

Wickard also pointed out that a more prosperous America will eat better and more food.

Wickard pledged the agriculture department "to work with farmers in their fight for a world in which they can continue full production" when the war is over.

All Night Clubs To Be Inspected

Pittsburgh Council Head Instructs Survey Of Fire Conditions Be Made

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 1.—City council took steps Monday to eliminate the possibility of a disaster in Pittsburgh such as occurred in Boston Saturday night, where 477 lives were lost in a night club fire.

At the suggestion of President

Thomas E. Kilgallen, council instructed the department of health and safety to make a complete survey of all night clubs and places of entertainment in the city, and report back to council within a week.

"The Boston night club disaster ought to make us very careful," Kilgallen said. The war is causing an increase in night life, and we ought to take the proper steps to see nothing of the kind can happen here."

"On the home front you can tell where you stand," says the Government, "not by looking at a map stuck with thumbtacks but by looking at your budget."

Won't you enlist in this army? Won't you help to win on the home front by having a financial plan and sticking to it? Won't you encourage others to practice budgeting by proving with your own example that it can be done?

Here's a budget plan that works

Americans Engage Japs Near Buna As Aussies Drive North Past Gona

By PAT ROBINSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Dec. 1.—While American artillery and mortars duelled with Japanese forces entrenched around Buna on the northern coast of New Guinea, Australian troops drove north Monday to the beach east of Gona, isolating enemy forces at the latter point and bisecting the main Japanese defense area.

At the same time, Boeing Flying Fortress attacked four more enemy destroyers, probably sinking two of them, while other American bombing craft raided Buna and American pursuit planes bombed and strafed Lae.

The Lae attack was a highly successful one. Five grounded navy Zero planes were destroyed. Direct hits were scored on two others, while bomb clusters were dropped among eight more, probably destroying them.

Captain Benton Daniels of Hollis, Okla., had the distinction of getting a destroyer on his first mission.

The four Japanese warships were sighted off Tokiwa Island in Vitiaz

Straits. Daniels made a run at medium altitude through heavy anti-aircraft and Lieut. Bob Hand of Papstated, Tex., was with him. They released three bombs, one hitting just off either side and the other directly amidships one destroyer, which promptly burst into flames.

Lieut. Guyton Christopher of Decatur, Ill., co-pilot, and Lieut. Haskell Wexler of Chicago, the navigator, observed results.

Captain Marshall Nelson of Fisher, Ill., had even better luck. His co-pilot, Lieut. John Hansen of Pennington, Va., made one nice pass at medium height and his bombardier let go a salvo of five bombs, all of which appeared to land on or alongside a destroyer, which immediately burst into flames.

"I could see Japs diving overboard as the ship's side blew out and it listed heavily," Hansen said. "The other two Jap destroyers turned and fled north."

Major Don Hill of Corpus Christi, Tex., and his squadron dropped low over Lae, strafing and bombing and setting Zeros afire, probably destroying fifteen.

Super Battleship Will Be Launched December 7

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—The Philadelphia Navy Yard will celebrate the first anniversary of the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor December 7th by launching the super battleship U.S.S. New Jersey, the heaviest man-o'-war ever built and queen-to-be of America's global fleet.

The keel of the New Jersey was laid on September 16, 1940, when Charles Edison, former secretary of the navy and now governor of the state for which the ship is named, welded the first two keel sections together. Appropriately, Mrs. Edison, the governor's wife, will sponsor the huge battleship.

When the New Jersey slides into the Delaware river, she will have a slightly greater tonnage displacement than her sister ship, the U.S.S. Iowa, which was launched at the Brooklyn Navy Yard last August.

The two ships are the first of a new class of battleships larger than any now in active service in the U.S. Navy. Originally announced as 45,000-tonners, their design has been changed to incorporate results of lessons learned in naval battles of World War II and their present tonnage is a closely-guarded military secret.

Navy officers pointed out that the launching of the "biggest battleship" comes at a time when a series of night battles in the Solomons and fog-bound Aleutians have emphasized the usefulness of the battleship, which can surmount handicaps of weather that hamper or halt plant activity.

Washington knows how to solve its problems, for England has shown the way. It just likes to experiment with foolish ideas.

Catholic Women Assemble Tuesday

Day Of Recollection Of C. D.
Of A. Attracts Many Local Catholic Women

Catholic women of all Catholic church parishes of this city responded splendidly Monday, and quite a large crowd attended the Day of Recollection, sponsored by the C. D. of A. at St. Mary's church.

A high mass of requiem at 9 o'clock for all the deceased members of the C. D. of A. started the morning services. Rev. Fr. William Murray, a Redemptorist of Pittsburgh, was celebrant, and later preached the sermon. "Clarity" was his subject chosen, and Father Murray emphasized how it can aid mankind. The women received holy communion during mass.

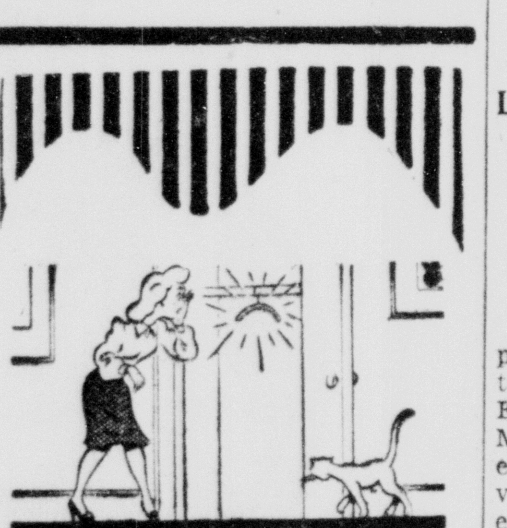

Later, a delicious hot communion breakfast was served in St. Mary's auditorium by the girls of St. Mary's high school. Purple and yellow, the colors of the C. D. of A. organization, predominated, and lovely bouquets of flowers, of the same color, centered the tables. Mrs. Jessie Stenger ably took the role of toast-mistress and introduced the special guests—the state grand regent, Frances Maher of Kane, Pa., who gave an interesting talk on the C. D. of A. and its accomplishments. Rev. Fr. Francis M. McCarter, pastor of St. Mary's church, and Rev. Fr. John M. King, assistant pastor, also made brief appropriate remarks.

Following the breakfast and speakers' program, a religious program was heard and included: 12:30 p. m., stations of cross, brief period of prayer, rosary, followed by recess. Sermon at 1:45 p. m. by Father Murray, who stressed the need of prayer in these times, and spoke on good Catholic action, and about boys in service. Litany to the Blessed Mother, and novena prayers followed. The Holy Hour from 3 to 4 o'clock brought the afternoon program to a close.

Much credit to the success of the second Day of Recollection sponsored by the C. D. of A. is due to Mrs. Anne Mulcahy, general chairman. Assisting were Mrs. Hazel Sewald, co-chairman; Mrs. Jessie Stenger, chairman of dining room; Mrs. Mary Maher, co-chairman; Mrs. Alice Powell, chairman of kitchen; Frances Corio, correspondence chairman; Mrs. Bridget Stevenson, Mrs. Mary Geddis and Mrs. Catherine Gallagher, reception committee.

Without a caste system, you can't prove you are upper class unless you wangle a commission in the Navy.

Maybe Hitler should come first; but every month we give the Japs to dig in will mean another year to dig them out.

Truckers Protest Rail-Truck Order

Large Group Of Truckers And Shippers At Meeting Here
Monday Night

Protesting against the proposed Rail-Truck Co-ordination plan of the Office of Defense Transportation, a large group of truckers and shippers from New Castle and nearby communities met in The Castle hotel Monday night. The meeting was called by the Lawrence county chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association and was presided over by President J. Fred Clarke.

Opening the meeting Mr. Clarke pointed out that the proposed plan would restrict motor truck shipments to 300 miles or less, and would set up a precedent that might be difficult to overcome later. He urged that the potentialities of the order were even more vicious than the immediate effect and that every one dependent upon motor truck transportation should protest.

A number of speakers were heard in protest against the proposed order. Mayor Charles B. Wayne was the first speaker and was followed by David Valiens, John Lowden, Roy Frampton, Harold Glenn, I. Miller Henley, H. J. Ross of Ellwood City, Carl Langdon of Sharon, Lloyd Keely and others.

'Fine Co-operation';
Trucks Busy

Christmas gift parcels and greeting cards addressed to western states flooded the parcel post counters of New Castle post office yesterday and today.

So heavy did the mailing rush become that two clerks were assigned to speed up the flow of packages. Postmaster William R. Hanna expressed his high pleasure over "the way everyone is co-operating." "Everybody knows that mail must go early this year," he said. Meanwhile, incoming parcel post shipments brought heavier and heavier loads, and the delivery division of the local office was being augmented with additional helpers. The post office has employed no outside extras for the current season, however.

THE MOST IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

EVER MADE BY THE U. S. TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The 9 Billion Dollar Victory Loan Drive Is On!

This week the United States Government begins the task of borrowing nine billion dollars from accumulated savings and idle funds in the next several weeks as an essential part of winning the war more quickly and more completely.

During these critical weeks you probably will be visited by a representative of one of the securities firms or banks which are contributing their time and effort—without compensation of any kind—to the Victory Fund Committee. He will explain to you, for instance, the benefits that you can obtain from the new Victory 2½'s—available for the first time. Welcome him as a war worker when he calls. If you miss him, ask your banker or securities dealer for full particulars. There is no limit to the amount that you can purchase.

Today many American families are torn apart. Millions have left their homes or their jobs; thousands have given their lives and many more are prepared to do so.

But the government, your government, is not asking you to give anything to this Nine Billion Dollar Drive. It is asking you to lend it all of the money you can possibly invest in what is the safest investment in the world—at a good rate of interest.

When the Victory Fund representative calls, please remember this: it is in your own interest, as well as that of your country, to listen to him—and to invest.

Other Treasury Securities offered to investors through the Victory Fund Committee are Treasury Tax Savings Notes A and C, and U. S. Savings Bonds, Series F and G.

Rules for the conduct of citizens during blackouts in the state have undergone a revision recently and Louis B. Round, executive secretary of the Lawrence County Council of Defense has received copies of them. They have been sent to the sheriff, state police, and all chiefs of police.

All such emergency vehicles must be marked with a pennant with the civilian defense basic insignia superimposed thereon.

Open Season On Thalwegs Declared

Engineers Seek To Discover Pennsylvania — New Jersey State Line In River

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 1—The open season on thalwegs has opened in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, with a host of engineers scrambling to determine the hideout of the elusive little creature.

And when they find it, New Jersey and Pennsylvania will know for the first time, who owns which islands in the Delaware River above Trenton.

The thalweg, it seems, is a word of German origin meaning "valley way," designating a line following the lowest part of the valley.

Officials were unaware of its presence until John Huston, an engineer of the Pennsylvania highway department, asked the Delaware River Bridge Commission which state owned some islands in the Delaware river near the water gap.

The state line, it was revealed in an investigation, follows the thalweg, but no official surveys had ever been made to determine just where it was. Boatmen assume that it follows the deepest channel, interlacing hundreds of small islands.

Definite knowledge of the jurisdiction over the islands might become extremely important, officials pointed out, in the event of a crime being committed in the disputed territory.

Publicly Owned Power Plants Escape Taxes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 — Basing estimates on current trends, publicly-owned electric light and power enterprises in the United States will have gross revenues of approximately $300,000,000 in 1942. This represents about one-ninth of the estimated revenues of $2,650,000,000 to be received by the privately-owned utility companies.

Of these revenues of $300,000,000, about $135,000,000 will have been received from sales of residential (or domestic) service and $90,000,000 from retail sales of commercial service. Private companies pay a Federal excise tax of 3 1-3 percent on these sales. If this Federal excise tax on retail sales of electricity had been applied to publicly-owned plants, the Government would have collected $7,500,000 in taxes in 1942.

Under the new 1942 Federal tax legislation, private utility companies this year will pay about $360,000,000, or 13 1-2 percent of their gross revenues in income, excess profits and other miscellaneous taxes. If this rate had been applied to the $300,000,000 revenues of publicly-owned plants, the U. S. Treasury would have gained $40,800,000 in taxes during 1942.

As the result of the Federal tax exemption of publicly-owned power systems, the U. S. Treasury is thus losing $48,300,000 which must either be made up by other taxpayers or else piled up as increased public debt.

Nine Billions In 32 Days Is Goal

Treasury's Victory Fund Campaign Opens To Borrow Money To Pay For War

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. — The treasury today opened a victory fund campaign to borrow $9,000,000,000 in 32 days from the American people and banks to help pay for a war that is costing the nation $6,000,000,000 a month.

The $9,000,000,000 asked for is $3,000,000,000 more than was raised in the fourth liberty bond campaign of World War I, the previous high for government financing.

The American people, Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau said, "are being asked to invest $9,000,000,000 in victory and freedom."

Offered to the U. S. people, banks, institutions and corporations are:

1. War bonds ranging in price from $25 to $10,000.

2. "Victory two-and-one-half" treasury bonds issued in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, and $100,000 and, as registered bonds, of $1,000,000, and available for sale to all but commercial banks.

3. One and 3-4 per cent treasury bonds which cannot be redeemed before June 15, 1948, in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000 and $100,000 and, as registered bonds, of $1,000,000.

Seven-eighths per cent one-year treasury certificates of indebtedness available in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000 and $100,000.

To see the new issues, the treasury has mobilized 50,000 bond and insurance salesmen in victory fund committees.

It was announced today by W. G. Smith, who was one of the committee of police who promoted a show in the Cathedral for the benefit of the police pension fund, that awards were made as follows:

Ray Walker, Temple avenue, $5.00 war stamps; Joyce Ann Smith, Evans City, $3.00 war stamps and Denise McConnell, East Washington street, $1.00 war stamps.

Sally Crawford, East Washington street, $18.75 bond; Alice McGrath, Euclid avenue, $10.00 war stamps, and Mrs. Nancy Fair, West Park way, $5.00 war stamps.

Gilmore also thanked the public for its cooperation and attendance.

Laws are funny. One day he is a child, and it is unlawful to let him work; next day he is a man and best qualified to be a soldier.

TAILORED TO FIT THE NEW MODEL!

America's Railroads are geared to fight today's War of Transportation... because far-sighted management made sure they would be ready.

Through 20 Years of Peace, the Railroads spent more than Ten Billion Dollars to fashion the United States with a modern armor of transportation... new and heavier rails, car equipment, bridges, towers, locomotives, signals, terminals... the legion of things necessary for solid, rock-ribbed, transport efficiency.

That's why the Railroads were ready! That's why, in America's crisis, the Railroads are coming through with the greatest mass-transport job in history. 8,000,000 troops moved since Pearl Harbor. Millions upon millions of tons of materials poured into industrial centers to keep production at top-speed. And finished fighting machines, food and equipment for Allied forces... delivered on schedule... smoothly and speedily... with but minor inconvenience to essential civilian service.

Yes, the Railroads were ready when war came... are ready to meet mounting needs as the war-tempo increases... determined to do whatever is necessary to WIN!

Just wait—

'til you see the gas range of the future*

*It'll be a dream of a range—well worth waiting for!

Even if you do have to get along with your old gas range... that's no reason why you can't plan now for the kind of kitchen you can have when the war ends.

You know, of course, of the marvelous cooking and baking the latest modern ranges now perform. You know, too, that the metal for ranges is now going into guns, bombs, instruments of precision. But what you don't know—and we can't tell you yet—is what the gas range of tomorrow will be like!

Yet we can tell you this: It will be a honey of a range! It will out-perform the finest range, using any fuel, you ever heard about. It will be more convenient, more useful, more automatically controlled, more flexible, more beautiful. You'll find it the "last word" in baking, broiling, top-burner cooking, roasting. A fit companion for the finest cooking fuel.

Buy it with war bonds—today!

You won't be able to buy it, of course, until after the war. But you can buy War Bonds and help win the war. Then, you can use your War Bond savings to put this dream of a gas range into your own kitchen.

Lee Paces 'Cane Scorers; Tallies 19 Six-Pointers

WPIAL Champs Average Over 24 Points A Game; Score 41 Times

ROUSSOS BOOTS 23 EXTRA POINTS

Before slamming down the book cover on another scholastic football season here, a brief statistical resume seems apropos.

In hanging up nine victories against a lone setback and a tie, New Castle high's "Red Hurricane" hauled the oval across the last chalk mark 41 times for 246 markers.

Bob "General" Lee, whose name will go alongside those of other New Castle greats, served as marshal with 19 touchdowns. Russ "Ranger" Currie, whose bullet speed injected rare thrills, crossed the goal line 12 times.

Jesse Gunn, handicapped during most of the season due to a broken bone in his right hand, nevertheless notched a half dozen six-pointers besides setting up a number of scoring opportunities.

The remaining touchdowns were divided among Eddie Jacobs, Albert Knight, Ted Lash and Pete Tedesco.

Roussos Kicking Star
One of the highlights of the season was Mike "Automatic" Roussos' ability to split the punts after touchdowns. The tall south sizer hit the target 23 times out of 37 attempts.

Gunn added an extra marker once in two punge attempts while Knight muffed his lone placement try of the season.

In winning the nine games which resulted in the 246 points, the "Cane" amassed 270 points for an average of slightly more than 24 points per game. At the same time, the champs limited the opposition to 70 points, slightly more than a touchdown a contest.

St. Vitus, Epworth Methodist And First Presbyterians Win Monday

Wesley Methodist and Central Christians, each sporting one win against no defeats, share the penthouse spot.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Tuesday sports potpourri:

At the box office, New Castle ranked among the top attractions in Pennsylvania scholastic circles this past season. The WPIAL crown wearers played before more than 85,000 clients. In seven home frays, about 58,000 swung around the turnstiles.

What'll gas rationing do to scholastic basketball here? This is a question which seems to have no answer as yet. At present, New Castle, Ellwood City, Mt. Jackson, Langrove, Princeton, Bessemer, Union, Shenango, New Wilmington, East Brook, Wampum and the junior high plan to fulfill their schedules.

Mayer Charles B. Mayne ranks among the most inveterate football followers here. The city's chief says quite regularly. The correspondence is addressed to 26 boys stationed in war theatres throughout the globe. The well-liked Wampum high coach hasn't forgotten that the young men formerly played basketball for him.

If you know what happened to Boston college Saturday kindly air mail Coach Denny Myers, Chestnut Hill, Mass. While you're at it, pass along the explanation to the hundreds of long faced grid gussers.

Saturday's clash between the Navy Pre-Flight and Colgate has been canceled by mutual agreement.

Will Harridge, American league president, is 56. And "Red" Rolfe, Yankee third sacker who recently accepted the post of basketball coach at Yale, is only 34. Two great-grandmothers and seven grandmothers are competing in a ladies' bowling league in Philly!

Adrian Berwick of the O. W. L. recently said that out of 3,000 words of daily news sent across to London for army consumption, about half pertains to sports and 1,300 of the daily 1,800 words sent to India is sports news. Soldiers request more instead of less sports news, he added.

INS Selects All-America Grid Eleven

Three From Midwest Picked; Frankie Sinkwich Is Honored

DUKES' KIELBASA ON HONOR ROLL

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Three players from the Midwest, three from the south, two each from the east and southwest and one from the Pacific coast make up the International News Service All-America team for 1942.

Selected with the help of experts all over the nation, the squad is composed of a first team, a second team and honorable mentions that take in virtually every standout football player performing during the past season.

The first team backfield includes Roy Gafford of Auburn, quarterback; Glenn Dobbs, of Tulsa, halfback; Robert Kennedy, of Washington State, halfback; and Frank Sinkwich of Georgia, fullback.

The line is composed of Don Curran, Boston College, and Dave Schreiner, Wisconsin, ends; Derrell Palmer, Texas Christian, and Charles Csuri, Ohio State, tackles; Julius Francis, Michigan, and Harvey Hardy, Georgia Tech, guards; Fred Naumetz, Boston College, center.

B. C. Lands Two
Boston College is the only team to land two men on the first eleven. Georgia Tech, Ohio State and Wisconsin have two men on the two elevens, first and second teams. The other 14 places making up the two elevens are filled by representatives from as many different schools.

Curran, 190-pounder who can run the hundred in 16 seconds, and Schreiner, a fast 195-pounder, got the nod easily for the end posts.

Csuri earned his tackle job with consistently good play all season and with a smashing performance in the Michigan game for Ohio State.

Francis is a fast, tough guard, who weighs 187 pounds and who has been a powerhouse for Michigan, while Hardy was accorded much of the honors at Georgia Tech in his guard spot.

Naumetz, at center, was regarded as one of the outstanding linemen in the history of Boston College football.

Gafford has sparked the Auburn team to its victories, including the one over Georgia, and is picked to do the quarterbacking. Dobbs made Tulsa click. A 191-pounder, he is among the nation's foremost passers, a fine blocker and a handy all around man for one halfback slot with Kennedy of Washington State, a 200-pounder, who blocks and plunges. At the other, Sinkwich is in the backfield for the simple reason that he may be the standout star of the year.

Governali Gets Maxwell Award
(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—Paul Governali, Columbia University's stellar forward passer, today rated as the "college player of the year" in the opinion of the Maxwell Football Club of Philadelphia.

He will receive the group's sixth annual award at a banquet in the Quaker City sometime in January. During the season, Governali hurled 165 passes, 87 of which were completed for a total gain of 1442 yards. Nineteen of his throws resulted in scores, a feat which equaled the standard set a few years ago by O'Brien of Texas Christian.

BOULDER—Brigham Young led in first downs, 10-4, but no one ever would guess it from the score. Colorado won the football game, 48-0.

Bob Montgomery Seeks To Avenge Defeat By Shapiro

Philadelphia Held As 3 To 1 Favorite In Joust Tonight.

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—Bob Montgomery, 23-year-old Philadelphia Negro, today was a 3 to 1 favorite to overwhelm New York's Maxie Shapiro in their 10-round knuckle duel at the Arena tonight.

The Bobcat is fighting to re-establish himself as the man-to-beat for the vacated lightweight title and to prove to his fans—and to himself—that the drumming he took at the hands of Shapiro last October 6th was a fluke. That night the Gotham limited was a despised 8 to 1 underdog.

Their last fight was an all-out slam-bang affair and tonight's duel is expected to be a carbon copy. The "old" Montgomery—before Shapiro—nearly took care of Lew Jenkins, Mike Kaplan, Davey Day and Al Nettlow without too much trouble.

Identical letters were received from Eastman by Ford Frick, president of the National league. Will Harridge, president of the American league, and baseball commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, asking that the baseball executives "explore the possibilities for curtailing travel during the 1943 season."

Letters Cause Stir
The Eastman letters created as much of a stir at the annual gathering of major leaguers as the announcement of Bill Terry, the Giants' farm manager, that he had resigned after 20 years with the club.

Both Harridge and Frick accepted the communication philosophically, said they already had anticipated the situation in major respects, had revised their schedules to substitute three out of town trips for each team instead of the customary four, and would do whatever else was necessary.

The club owners in both leagues also expressed willingness to "go along," but in some instances reserved comment until they knew what Eastman's request would involve.

Eastman's letter also predicted a curtailment of activities in spring training. Practically every club in both leagues has completed its spring training schedule and expects to train in the south or on the west coast, but in spring training schedules that have been made in the past will be eliminated.

"This may mean we can't go to California," said general manager James T. Gallagher of the Chicago Cubs. "If not we will train as close to home as possible."

Bill Terry's announcement that he was quitting the Giants was still a main topic of conversation among both the National and American leaguers as they opened their formal meetings today.

May Join Phils
Coming in the wake of a virtual ultimatum from the National league board of directors to Jerry Nugent, president of the Philadelphia Phils, to offer a workable solution to his club's operation with the alternative that the league would take over the club, there were indications that Terry might join the Phils in an executive capacity.

Terry said merely that he was a

Sees Possible Nazi Defeat During Year

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The United States and Great Britain today were in agreement on a new joint production program which envisages the possible defeat of Nazi Germany next year.

The program was worked out by President Roosevelt and Oliver Lyttelton, British production minister, who is returning to London to put the British part of the program into immediate effect.

Following a conference with President Roosevelt at the White House late yesterday, Lyttelton told reporters at a special press conference that the new program is based on the "strategic initiative" in the war now having passed from the Axis to the United Nations.

He said he thought the European war "could be won" between now and June 1943. However, he emphasized that such a development was merely a possibility rather than a probability. He also said that the program planning with President Roosevelt covered 1944 as well as next year.

Knox Believes Fleet Scuttled To Foil Germans

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Secretary of the Navy Knox today expressed the belief that most of the French fleet at Toulon had been scuttled to prevent seizure by the Nazis.

The observation was made in response to a question about the veracity of the stories which have been received from Vichy and other sources concerning the French fleet.

"If it were not true, certainly the facts would have come out by now," Knox said. "Apparently the fleet was scuttled."

Hearing On Milk Price, December 9

Milk Marketing Area Hearing Is Scheduled For Meadville Court House

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 1.—The Milk Control Commission today scheduled a general price hearing for the northwestern milk marketing area on December 9 at 10 a. m., in the Crawford county courthouse at Meadville.

Producers, distributors and consumers in the seven-county area of Butler, Erie, Crawford, Lawrence, Mercer and Venango county comprising area 17 of the marketing district were asked to attend the meeting.

In general, the commission reported, "the producers state that production costs have increased materially, labor has become increasingly scarce and higher in cost; supplies and equipment have advanced sharply, and feed costs are higher."

"There has been a large increase in meat prices with the result that there is an opportunity for farmers to sell their cows at a good price for beef or to produce beef and pork animals instead of dairy products," it was stated. "The effect of this will be to reduce the supply of milk and with the home consumption, as well as export demand increasing, any material reduction in the amount of milk produced would lead to a restricted consumption either for home or export."

First High School Basketball Game Tonight At Wampum

No Definite Pre-League Games Arranged Because Of Transportation Problems

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 1.—The Ellwood high school basketball team will make their initial appearance tonight when they go to Wampum high school for an exhibition game.

With the uncertainties of gas rationing, no definite pre-league games have been arranged prior to the opening of the league after the first of the year. If transportation is at all possible, Coach Croft will play several preliminary games.

Practice has been going on for several days, and, at present, prospects for this year's team are promising.

Fighting it out for the first five positions are Robuck, Bradnes and Vitkovich forwards; J. Cartwright and Certelli centers; and Hayden, Greco and Nekhiu, guards. Vitkovich and Greco are hold-overs from last year regular team and the others played with the reserves last year.

Croft has a squad of 14 players for the first team and about fourteen reserve candidates. Gone from last year are Clark, Skulski, and Moskal, who have joined the Armed Forces and Presto Lardo and Di-Blago, who graduated.

A junior high squad is practicing under Harold Burry. It is doubtful if the juniors can play many away from home games but they will meet local competition. Several of the schools of the district have dropped out of the junior league because of transportation difficulties.

The reserves will begin the first game at Wampum tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Grand Jury To Be Summoned In Broenstrup Case

Federal Judge Orders Jury Reconvened To Hear Case Against Aids

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 1.—Federal Judge Nelson McVicar today ordered the November grand jury reconvened to hear charges against five persons accused of aiding and comforting Howard Victor Broenstrup, 56, an alleged seditionist, during the five months he hid in Beaver county.

Judge McVicar acted at the request of Federal Attorney Charles P. Uhl, and set next Monday as the date for the hearing. If indicted, Uhl explained the two persons arrested outside of Pennsylvania could be brought here on bench warrants.

Otherwise, he added, the government would have to take testimony presented in their home states, and that would "tip off" the government's hand. Those held in other states were Adelaide Marion Pelley of Noblesville, Ind., daughter of William Dudley Pelley, convicted leader of the Silver Shirts, and Frank W. Marmer of Poland, O.

Others charged with concealing Broenstrup were Henry Meine, New Galilee florist; Margaret Marie Carmichael, who was with Broenstrup when he was arrested, and Victor Warren Hove, New Castle.

Postponement of removal proceedings on the grounds that he had to have important papers brought in from New York, and also needed counsel.

HALF PAY FOR SERVICE MEN BEFORE COURT

City Of Pittsburgh Argues That 1917 Dependency Act Is Unconstitutional

(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—Counsel for the city of Pittsburgh appeared in Pennsylvania's supreme court Monday and argued that the 1917 dependency act—providing half pay to dependents of public employees up to $2,000 a year—was unconstitutional.

W. Denning Stewart, counsel for Elmer J. Kurtz, a Pittsburgh taxpayer, contended that the act and its amendments violated both the federal and the state constitutions in that they are unreasonable, confiscatory and "special legislation". He declared the act took money from one individual and gave it to the benefit of another and it should be considered that the payments made were extra compensation without extra service.

The litigation involves several thousand employees throughout the commonwealth. The city of Pittsburgh alone is paying approximately $100,000 a year to dependents of employees who have entered the armed forces.

Payments Not Pensions
"The payments," said Stewart, "as provided for by the act of 1917 are not to be considered as pensions.
They are mere gratuities."

"The act creates no basis where it can be said that the payments are in recognition of loyal service of the municipal employees and the payments are not correlated with previous service and loyalty by an employee to the municipality."

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the attorney general's office, however, entered the case as an intervenor seeking to uphold the act. The state attorneys pointed out that many employees volunteered or were called into the armed forces with reliance on the 1917 statute and its amendments.

Argues Effect On Cities
Stewart argued before the high tribunal that provision for payments to dependents of municipal employees would have a disastrous effect on cities throughout the state. It is possible, he said, that in the next year or two the jobs vacated by the original volunteers or draftees might be vacated two or three times again for the same reason and the cities would be left with payments doubling or even quadrupling the wage for the particular job.

Anne X. Alpern, Pittsburgh's city solicitor, declared that the attempt of the Pennsylvania legislature to lighten the burden of dependents of public employees brought an unconstitutional increase in the burden of the taxpayers.

She maintained that when a municipal employee enters the armed forces he ceases to perform any services for the city and therefore any payments made by the city is a violation of the constitution.

The high court will hand down its decision later.
